OBJECTIVE

Despite I graduated on College of Tourism and gained degree Economist, my life has gone in other direction and I had never chance to dedicate my first and truly passion coding. Since I was a kid I was always interested for computer and video games. Now I would like that my passion be my profession and I am fully ready to commit myself to become the best developer as I can.

Considering that I am highly motivated person and that I have desire to constantly improve myself and further develop my skills. I have strong problem-solving and organizational skills and willingness to learn with great enthusiasm.
